WESTERN CAPE - SOUTH AFRICA

Welcome to the Cape Whale Coast!

The Cape Whale Coast Route offers access to a destination that would appeal to just about every eco and adventure-loving traveller in the world. Located in the Overstrand within the Overberg district, it is a 60-90 minute drive from Cape Town. Just outside Gordon's Bay is the start of Clarence Drive (the R44), a dramatically carved road in between the base of the Hottentots-Holland mountains and the crashing waves of False Bay. The road is one of the most scenic drives in South Africa. It cuts through the Kogelberg Biosphere Reserve, recognised by UNESCO for the diversity of its fynbos vegetation and shoots past Pringle Bay, Betty's Bay and Kleinmond to Hermanus, Stanford and Gansbaai.

Explore!

Experience anything from sublime scenic drives, majestic mountains and hiking trails to shark cage diving. The Cape Whale Coast offers — without a doubt — some of the best spots in the world to view whales between June and November. Golf lovers, birdwatchers and adventure seekers can all be accommodated.

Wine & dine with us!

A delicious way to experience the cuisine of the Cape Whale Coast is through visiting the many country markets, delis and fine restaurants in the region. Wine lovers can visit over 20 cellars filled with the finest cultivars. Many of the wine farms offer food and wine pairings.

Sleep peacefully!

The Cape Whale Coast offers a variety of accommodation, ranging from backpackers, homely guesthouses to five star lodges and hotels, to suit every tourist's need. Absorb the serenity, coastal beauty and champagne air. Our accommodation will appeal to those who want to get close to nature.

did you know?

When whales are spotted along the Hermanus coast, you'll hear the world's only Whale Crier blowing his kelp horn. The Southern Right Whale is called such because it was the 'right' whale to hunt as it floats when dead; is rich in oil and baleen, and is relatively slow moving.

The Harold Porter National Botanical Garden in Betty's Bay showcases over 700 species of indigenous South African plants and 88 species of birds! 10 hectares are immaculately cultivated with wheelchair friendly paths winding between banks of fossil-age plants, wetland and dune displays and cool African montane forests.

Hermanus is home to the SANSA Space Science, formerly known as the Hermanus Magnetic Observatory. SANSA Space Science is the warning centre for Africa, one of thirteen regional warning centres around the world, which monitor extreme space weather and solar magnetic activity.

Great white sharks use their powerful tails to propel themselves through the water. The fins are only used for balance. Most sharks have 5 to 15 rows of teeth in each jaw. A tooth usually lasts a week before it falls out. Sharks keep replacing their teeth all their lives.

The African Penguin colony at Stony Point, Betty's Bay, is the second largest land-based breeding colony in Africa. Penguins are best seen in the late afternoon when they return from their day's fishing.

Stanford's market square — used as a venue for a monthly country market — was proclaimed a South Africa Heritage area in 1995. The original farmhouse of De Kleine Riviers Valey (original spelling), built in 1785, is one of the oldest houses still in existence in the Cape Overberg.

One of the Overstrand's greatest assets relates to the diversity of bird species found in the area: it hosts many sought after endemic species such as Cape Rockjumper, Cape Sugarbird, Orange-breasted Sunbird, Protea Seedeater, Cape Penguin, African Black Oystercatcher and many more. Further to this, several under-utilised and ecologically varied birding destinations such as Harold Porter, Fernkloof, the Vermont salt pan, Stony Point, Dyer Island and the world renowned "Cape Rockjumper site" at Rooiels need to be properly exposed to a rapidly growing bird-watching fraternity.

Baardskeedersbos, home to a collection of artists and crafters, is located about 20km east of Gansbaai. The name "Baardskeedersbos" in Afrikaans literally means "Beard Shaver's Forest". The accepted explanation for this name is that a species of solifuge inhabits the area, and that this insect is referred to as a "beard shaver" because it cuts hair to use for nest-building.

There's a place just over an hour's drive from Cape Town, where you can almost touch whales from a cliff top; see more plants than anywhere else on earth; watch penguins raise their young, have conversations with sharks, sleep peacefully.

A place where nature talks to man — come and listen.

Eco & Nature

- The Hangklip-Kleinmond area, which encompasses the towns and villages of Rooiels, Pringle Bay, Betty's Bay and Kleinmond, is nestled in the heart of the Kogelberg Biosphere Reserve (the first South African biosphere formally recognised by UNESCO). More than 1600 species of unspoilt indigenous fynbos per 10 000 square kilometres can be found here. Enjoy white water rafting in winter, or black water tubing in summer on the Palmiet river. Hike or mountain-bike amidst the Fynbos in the Kogelberg Nature Reserve.
- Visit the African Penguin colony (an endangered seabird species) at Stony Point, Betty's Bay.
- Drive to the Rooisand Nature Reserve from where you're bound to spot Kleinmond's wild horses and numerous bird species. Rooiels beach is home to otters, and is declared a birding hotspot. You may want to volunteer as a nanny to the Oystercatchers on Betty's Bay, Rooisand or Rooiels beaches during nesting season.

Outdoor Activities

- Play golf at the championship 18-hole course at a world-renowned resort, or test your skills at Kleinmond's own 9-hole course, nestled between mountain and sea.
- Go sand-boarding down the slopes of the Blesberg Dune near Hangklip: it stands 250 metres tall and offers a potential run of 400 metres.
- Go birdwatching by canoe on the Kleinmond and Botriver Estuaries and take pleasure in rowing in the picturesque surroundings. There are many safe family beaches, where you can swim, walk, go horseback riding or watch whales, including at the Blue Flag accredited Kleinmond Beach at Sandown Bay.
- Visit the new eco friendly cabins in the Kogelberg Nature Reserve: award winning accommodation with breathtaking views over the valley and easy access to the numerous hiking trails within the reserve.

Art, Culture & Heritage

- Follow in the footsteps of our forefathers: Khoisan fish traps at Maasbaai date back some 100 000 years. The Hangklip Hotel served as a radar station during the second world war.
- Church services were held near the Kleinmond lagoon from as early as 1902 and the tree which stands there has earned the name of 'die Preekboom' due to the fact that Church services are still conducted there during the end of the year holiday period.
- Visit the site of the Stony Point Penguin Colony, operated at Waaigat Whaling station which closed in 1930.

Wine, Dine & Shop

- Wine and dine, or explore the vast array of galleries and craft shops in Betty's Bay, Pringle Bay, Rooiels and Kleinmond's Harbour Road.
- Go for a sundowner at one of the numerous pubs or restaurants and meet the locals or just enjoy your own company. Perhaps visit Betty's Bay's chocolatier, the famous honey shop in Kleinmond, or the cookie factory in Pringle Bay.
- Enjoy a treatment at the world-renowned spa, or at one of the many health & beauty clinics.

www.hermanustourism.info

hermanustourism2@hermanus.co.za

Eco & Nature

- Hire bicycles and explore the town or be more adventurous and pedal off-road on mountain bike trails. Enjoy treetop sliding, quad biking, paintball, horse riding and more.
- Climb Hoy's Koppie for sweeping views of Hermanus.
- Experience Hermanus's two championship golf courses.
- Surf, wind-surf, kite-board or join a guided sea-kayaking adventure across the bay, departing from the Old Harbour. Hire canoes and paddle on the estuary.

Outdoor Activities

- During whale season, when Southern Right whales visit these shores, Hermanus offers the best land-based whale-watching in the world. A 12km cliff path offers excellent whale watching.
- Ramble along mountain paths that meander through the Fernkloof Nature Reserve which boasts about 1600 fynbos species. A number of hiking trails offer spectacular views and birdwatching opportunities.
- Explore the fairytale milkwood forest at Grotto Beach along a kilometer of boardwalks. Grotto Beach and Hawston are both Blue Flag beaches.

Art, Culture & Heritage

- Visit one of the three museums — the Whale Museum, Old Harbour Museum and the Photography Museum.
- Hermanus is rapidly developing into an art destination to be reckoned with. There are more than 45 galleries displaying arts and crafts throughout the Greater Hermanus area.

Wine, Dine & Shop

- Visit the new Hermanus R320 Wine Route in the Hemel-en-Aarde Valley. It offers a top-class wine destination of international standing and award-winning wines. Many of the farms offer wine tastings and some offer lunches or food and wine pairings.
- Hermanus boasts eighteen of the top 1000 restaurants in South Africa according to the EatOut magazine, most of which are in exquisite locations with breathtaking views.
- Explore the town's hidden lanes and coffee shops with outdoor spaces. You will go far to find the quantity and quality of bookstores, clothing, boutiques, furniture, antique and décor shops (new, used and vintage) you will find here.
- The place to be on a Saturday morning — whether you are a local or a visitor — is at one of the markets where a variety of food and home-made products are provided: Hermanus Country Market, Hermanuspieterfontein Food and Wine Market, Lemm's Corner and the Red Sheds market.

a taste of village life

www.stanfordtourism.co.za

ask@stanfordinfo.co.za

Tel: 028 341 0340

Eco & Nature

- Embraced by the Klein River which features a variety of salt and fresh water fish, including bass. Also otters, terrapins and other indigenous animals.
- About 250 bird species can be found in and around Stanford. Of the 68 endemic bird species in South Africa, 30 occur within close proximity of Stanford.
- Up to 2013, Stanford's sole water supply was obtained from a fountain. This pure spring water is pumped to a reservoir and distributed through town without anything being added to it.
- 'Historical Stanford on Foot' walking trail gives interesting background information on the people that used to live (or still live!) in each dwelling. A wonderful way to do a self-guided or conducted walk through the village.

Outdoor Activities

- Book a river cruise on the African Queen, Platanna or River Rat, or rent your own canoe or kayak for the day.
- The Stanford Walking Trail (Wandelpad) winds its way along the banks of the Klein River and through the town and offers visitors some wonderful glimpses of the many birds in the area.
- Visit Klein River Cheese. A family outing to taste and purchase cheese; enjoy a delicious picnic on the banks of the river, all while the children take pleasure in the playground or pet and feed the many farm animals.
- Challenge yourself with horse-riding, fly fishing, mountain biking and hiking. The ideal village to stay over after an exhilarating shark-cage diving experience.
- African WINGS - Watch the majestic whales from the air for an eagle's eye view of these beautiful giants of the deep.
- Visit Panthera Africa and lions, leopards, tigers and caracals up close. Enjoy an educational or enrichment visit that you will never forget. A true sanctuary where animal welfare is the focus.

Art, Culture & Heritage

- The Stanford Art Stroll is a meander between the studios of a group of artists, whilst you experience the charming village.
- Stanford is an architectural treasure chest and is regarded as one of South Africa's best preserved villages.
- St Thomas Anglican Church is the oldest church in Stanford (1863) and has provincial heritage status.
- De Kleine River Valley house, original home of Sir Robert Stanford, is one of the oldest remaining houses in the Overberg (Circa 1785).

Wine, Dine & Shop

- What is it about good ol' country food that makes it so special? Maybe world-class producers or award-winning chefs? One thing is for certain, Stanford's food scene is vibrant, exciting and surprising.
- Country Markets- Sunset Market (6 - 8pm), every last Friday of the month. Also boasts its own unique Saturday Morning Market (10am - 12pm).
- Explore various arts & crafts shops, art galleries, antique shops and collectables on offer.
- The Stanford Wine Route includes various award-winning labels.
- Visit the Birkenhead Brewery for beer tasting and tours. All the beer is handcrafted at this micro-brewery offering six flavours of beer.
